

Individual Travel Awards

Add high-end gloss to your incentive program offering with individual travel and experience awards.

From domestic round-trip tickets to a luxury cruise or a cycling tour, we can deliver whatever travel experience your winners can dream up.

Raise the emotional stakes with a travel reward

- Emotional added value – Individual travel awards are structured just like merchandise awards, but carry emotional added value that bumps them up a notch on the desirability scale.
- More than merchandise – Travel awards appeal particularly to incentive program veterans who have acquired all of the ‘things’ they want and need.
- Mind expanding experiences – Some people are keen for a fresh perspective on the world; others simply welcome a relief from routine. Either way, travel experiences linger as lasting memories of performance.
- Sharing the reward – As a quiet escape with a partner, or a family focused adventure, travel is an emotional bonding experience with the people who matter most – which make travel awards that much more motivating.

What is it?

Individual travel awards range from domestic round-trip tickets to full-itinerary getaways.

How does it work?

Winners exchange AwardPoints™ for travel awards. You can build your incentive program exclusively around travel awards, or offer them in combination with merchandise.
