eValue

Examine the alignment between your people, customers, processes and operations.

Strategic survey tool eValue® is a web-based strategic survey tool that helps you objectively evaluate the status of key business performance areas.

Performance and needs analysis in a single application Traditional surveys gather information. eValue® combines a performance and needs analysis in a single application, so you can see how well your business is operating and identify priority issues that require attention.

- Survey questions are linked to strategic goals
- Real-time reporting with detailed drill down capability provides information on performance across the organisation
- Multi-perspective graphic reporting allows for deep analysis and informed action plans.
